

SnapDragon Apple

- A new apple from New York characterized by “monster crunch,” the SnapDragon was 10 years in the making and developed by Cornell University’s apple breeding program to exhibit improved storage qualities, flavor, and disease resistance.
- SnapDragon apples have a very sweet, subtly tart flavor with vanilla, melon, and spice-filled undertones.
- These apples are a good source of fiber, which helps